

Welcome to the Arcata Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary

Marbled Godwit

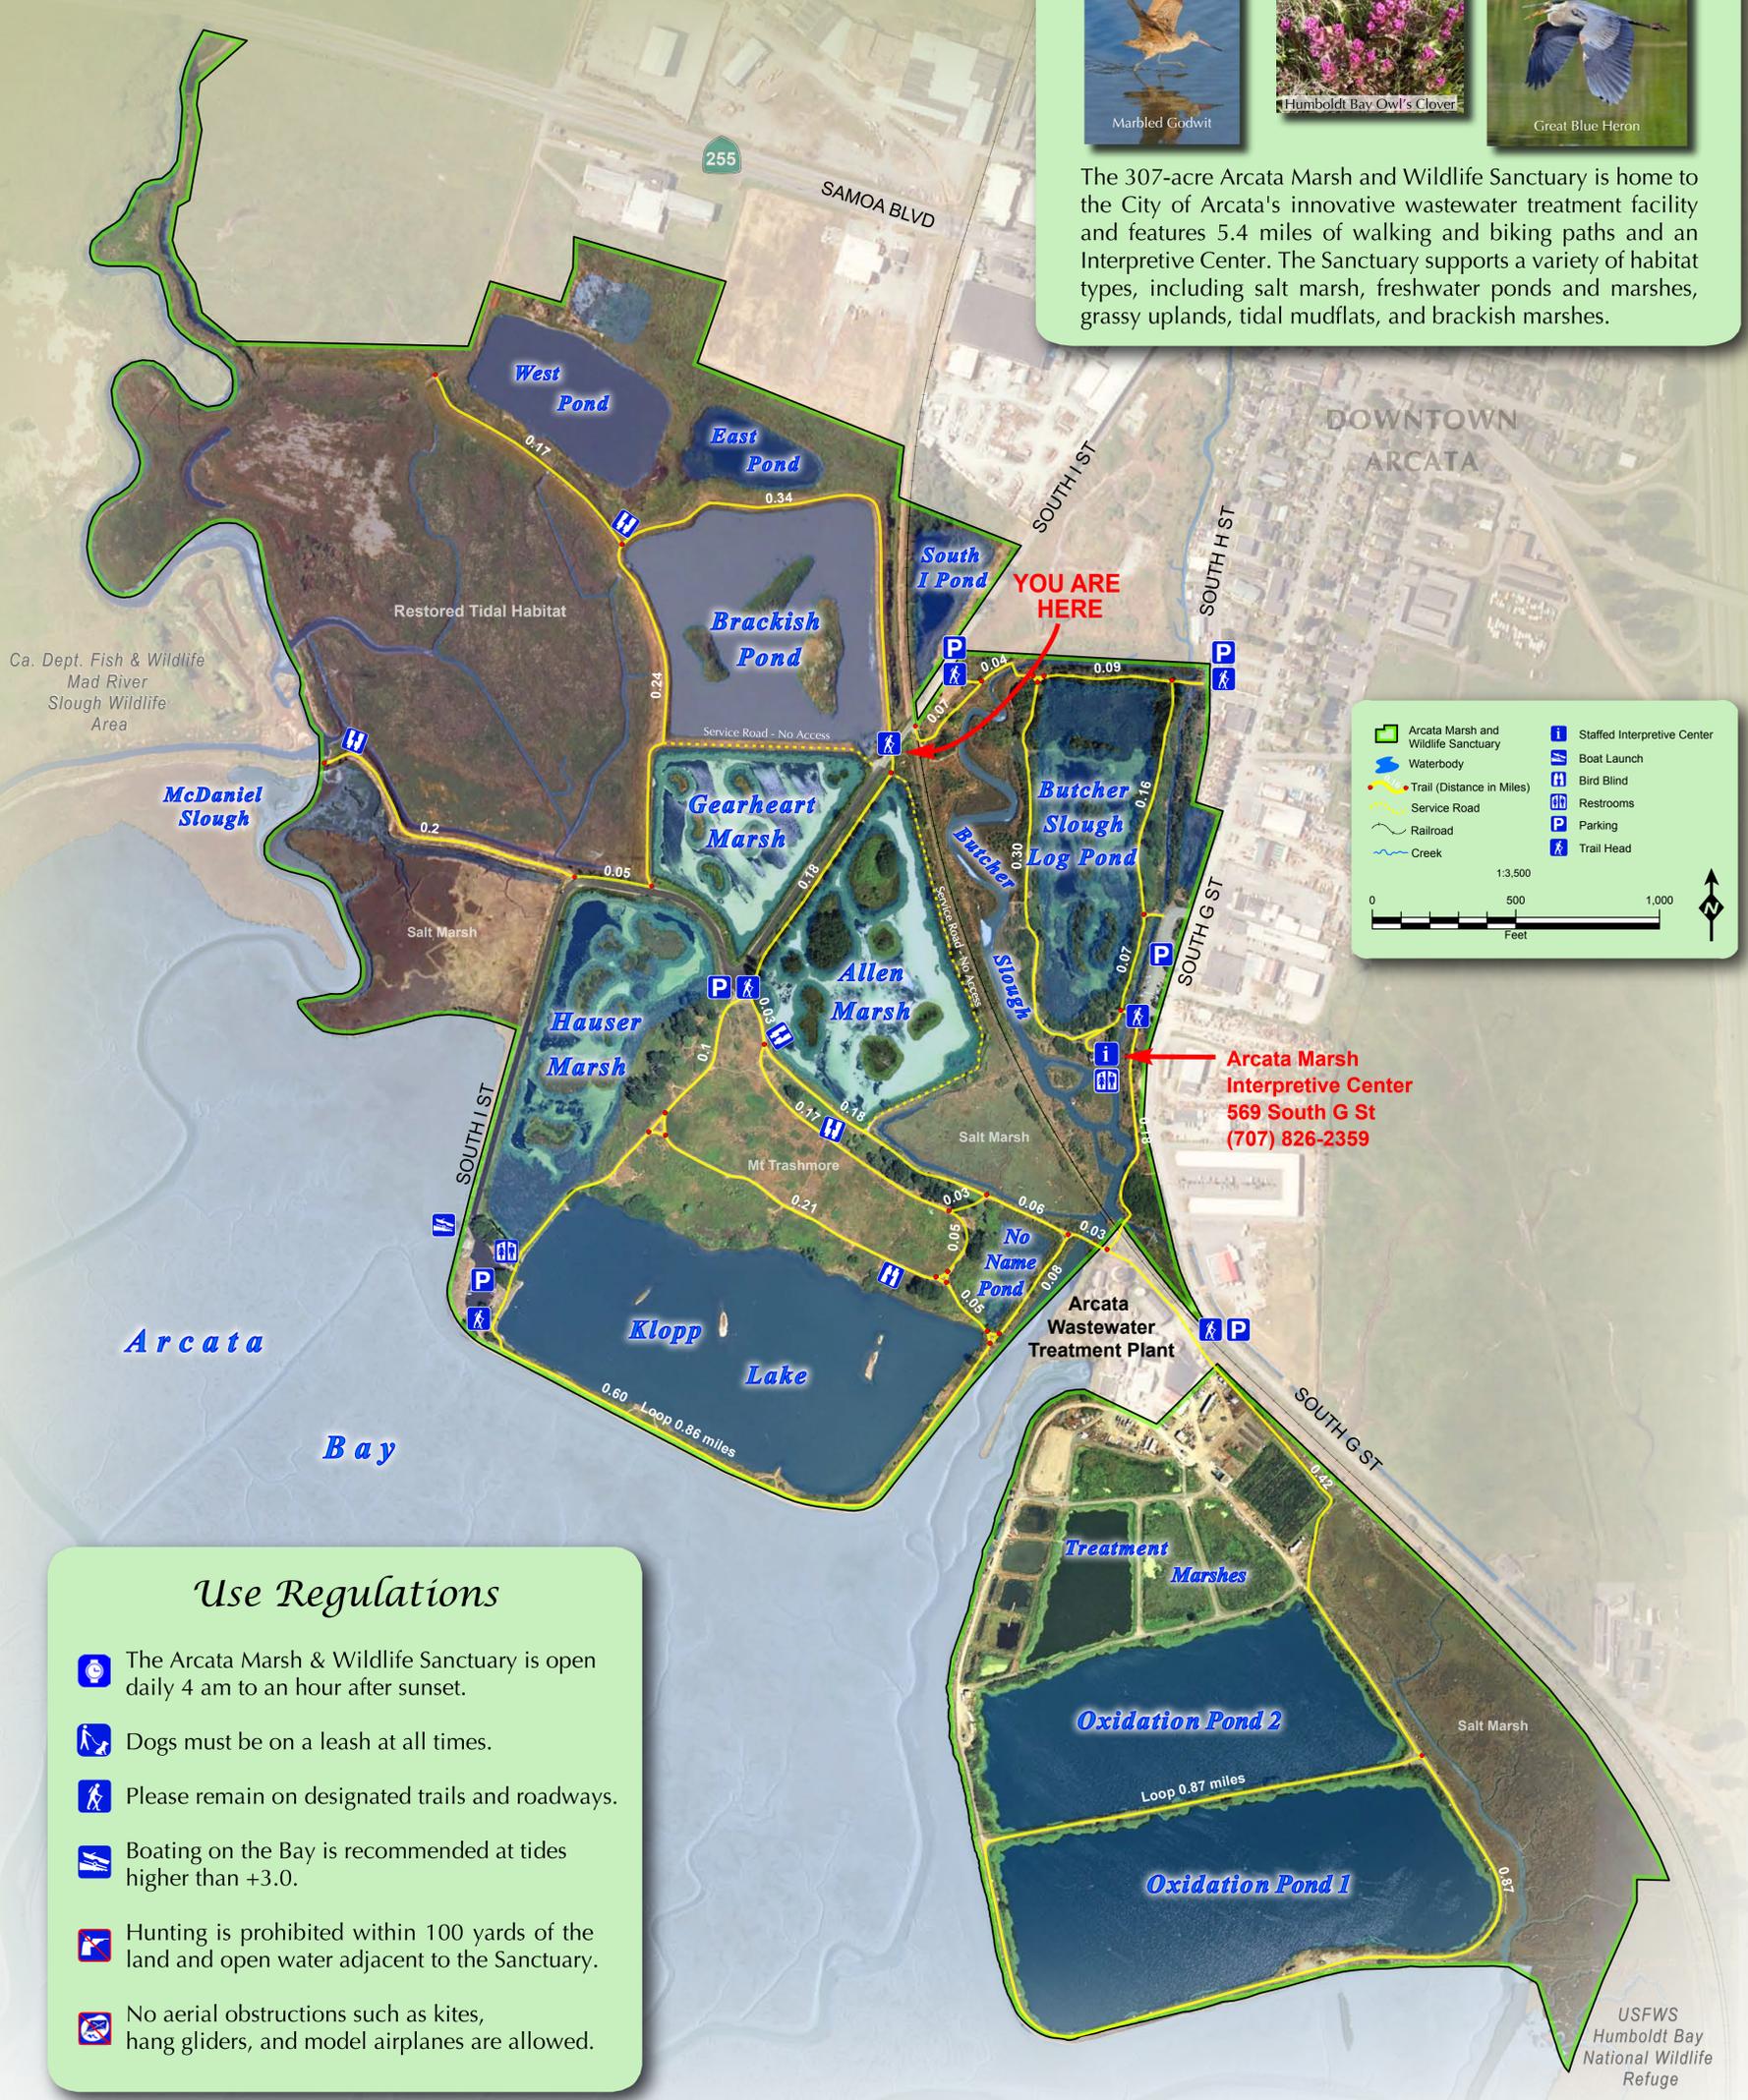

Humboldt Bay Owl's Clover

Great Blue Heron

The 307-acre Arcata Marsh and Wildlife Sanctuary is home to the City of Arcata's innovative wastewater treatment facility and features 5.4 miles of walking and biking paths and an Interpretive Center. The Sanctuary supports a variety of habitat types, including salt marsh, freshwater ponds and marshes, grassy uplands, tidal mudflats, and brackish marshes.

Arcata Marsh and Wildlife Sanctuary	Staffed Interpretive Center
Waterbody	Boat Launch
Trail (Distance in Miles)	Bird Blind
Service Road	Restrooms
Railroad	Parking
Creek	Trail Head

Scale: 1:3,500
0 500 1,000 Feet

Use Regulations

- The Arcata Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary is open daily 4 am to an hour after sunset.
- Dogs must be on a leash at all times.
- Please remain on designated trails and roadways.
- Boating on the Bay is recommended at tides higher than +3.0.
- Hunting is prohibited within 100 yards of the land and open water adjacent to the Sanctuary.
- No aerial obstructions such as kites, hang gliders, and model airplanes are allowed.

To report trail concerns call City of Arcata Environmental Services (707) 822-8184.
Website: cityofarcata.org/departments/environmental-services/water-wastewater/wildlife-sanctuary
For emergencies call 911. Photos by Leslie Scopes Anderson. Illustrations by Gary Bloomfield.

Signs funded by the State Coastal Conservancy with funding from Proposition 84, Park Water Bond 2006, City of Arcata, and Friends of the Arcata Marsh (FOAM).

